

UNDERSTANDING THE MATRIX

Successful Remote Viewing

In this article we want to highlight some more recent visions regarding the structure of the MATRIX and how these insights can enhance the quality of your viewings!

As remote viewers we know that the elementary powers of creation are based on information. Today's scientific tools and knowledge are built on the foundations laid by previous generations. It is our task to jointly have the courage and willpower to investigate further what is behind, and not just ignore what we don't understand. Information is much more than the subject of communication and its role in remote viewing is unique!

Living beings possess a wide portfolio of abilities such as inspiration, clairvoyance, psychometrics, telepathy and others. Unfortunately some institutions made us believe that we no longer needed those abilities, and imposed us their "mechanical" and "Newtonian" way of thinking. It is time to become aware of this, and understand that the major changes and revolutions in physics, cosmology and human behavior are taking place right now, Remote Viewing being the best proof of it!

The Heim Theory - A new approach to the MATRIX

Unknown to most people is the Heim theory, a collection of breathtaking ideas about the fundamental laws of physics proposed by the German scientist Burkhard Heim in the 1980's. This valuable and remarkable theory was further refined and developed by Walter Dröscher and Jochem Häuser. The theory is a perfect unification of the quantum theory and general relativity.

Heim became disabled after an explosive handling accident during the Second World War, which left him without hands and mostly deaf and blind. Apart from the geniality, the theory has two important drawbacks: its complexity and the fact that hardly anything was ever published in another language than German.

As Heim couldn't write and see, he dictated his work to his father (and later his wife), who during many years worked day and night with him in order to publish this valuable theory. His severe handicaps led him to prefer isolation to a confined environment in order to avoid the stress of communication with the media and the outside world.

The mathematics behind Heim's theory requires the extension of space-time with extra dimensions. In the Heim theory particle masses are yielded directly from fundamental physical constants. Heim's pioneering work of the 12 dimensional structures of the universe is a first glance at how the MATRIX (information fields) can be defined and situated.

Burkhard Heim was born in 1925 in Potsdam, Germany, and during one of the severe Potsdam winters a friend of Burkhard Heim studied the ice flowers that were formed on the (non-isolated, single) window glasses. Ice flowers are the structures of ice which form on single-layer glass windows during frost. Warm humid air on one side of the window pane will cool and sublimate ice crystals, which grow into flower-like structures. Since the surface is very flat and usually also very clean, the sublimation process goes slow, and the resulting ice structures can be very beautiful.

He showed Burkhard that those ice flowers had different forms, very similar to the shape of the plants present in the room. They both studied those shapes, and came to the conclusion that indeed, they corresponded to those of the plants located in that room! They started an investigation in the neighborhood, and always came to the same conclusion: the shapes and forms of plants in a room were projected in the ice flowers! In other words: for one or another "strange" reason, the forms and shapes of plants were projected on to a window glass, and were materialized by means of the ice. In other words, the available information in the room materialized in ice flowers!

Although this was not the reason for Heim's remarkable contributions, it is a valuable start for us to our exploration of information fields, or what we call the MATRIX!

After the devastating blast in 1944 Heim tried to understand the connection and interactions between mental and material processes in our world. In order to distract the growing attention from the military industry, Heim turned towards metaphysical research especially in the field of instrumental communication with professor Bender. He defined paranormal phenomena as being transitions between the physical and psychological worlds.

According to Heim the four dimensional (visible) world represents only the lower level of the universe. X5 and X6 are the energetic stimulation fields and X7 – X8 can be designated as being the information fields. The communication between the three dimensions we live in with the organizational fields (X5 – X6) as well as the information fields, called the MATRIX (X7 – X8) happens via X4 (Time). Therefore time is an active force through which exchanges with higher fields (dimensions) happen.

The MATRIX or information levels as explained by Burkhard Heim can be considered as huge storing spaces, full of possibilities amongst those ones can be chosen that are necessary. The materialization of possibilities depends on the degree of necessity. X5 and X6 are considered as being the organizational level or also called the transition levels. This is very important because this might be the reason why, in some cases, we don't receive a 100% connection with the signal line!

In the MATRIX (the information levels (X7 and X8)), there is no time and space or in other words there is non locality and non polarity. So in order to be able to understand and work with the information in our three dimensions, they must be transformed into a local and polar structure. In remote viewing this corresponds to the strict execution protocol. When we start to follow the protocol (S1) our brain goes in theta, and the transformation into local and polar structure starts!

The Heim theory shows us a world of organizational structures that are in permanent actualization. The complete information pattern of any creature or process can be found back in the higher information fields X7 and X8. This is what we call the MATRIX! Through time (X4) the higher fields act on our material world we live in. By using the research work of Burkhard Heim, we have been able to explain in a quit simple way the existence of information fields, and thus the structure of the MATRIX!.

About Archetypes and the MATRIX

All processes, being natural or man-made, are associated with the MATRIX. The MATRIX contains all possible information, so also the one that we don't know yet.

As we already mentioned the content of the MATRIX is non-local, which means that it is accessible by everyone anywhere in the universe. This implies that there needs to be another way of communication which is much faster than the speed of light!!!

The main key-word by describing the MATRIX is "coherence". Coherent information will have a faster implementation and a higher probability to be "downloadable" successfully. The content of the MATRIX becomes more coherent by the use of archetypes! Archetypes are the main buildings block of the kinesthetic S3 sketches!

Archetypes are a complex system of structures that involve space, time and form. Every natural or man-made pattern conforms to archetypical patterns. By studying these patterns, insight may be gained concerning the nature, content and communication with the MATRIX, but more about this in a next issue!
